CIS Group continues to grow in the context of a global health crisis

Close to $60 million signed in new contracts with major international operators in the energy sector

Despite a context still strongly degraded by the health crisis, the CIS Group continues its development by strengthening its positions with major clients in all the regions where the Group is present.

During the current financial year, the Group is experiencing a strong commercial dynamic, mainly in the form of new contracts, for a total amount close to $60 million. Demonstrating the relevance of CIS's reinforcement in high-potential zones, these new successes will constitute powerful growth drivers for 2021 and beyond.

Eurasia zone

In Kazakhstan, the Group has won two new contracts in the mining sector, a sector in which the Group has become the benchmark actor in the country. The Kazakh subsidiary has also won a new contract for the supply and installation of kitchen equipment for a client in the mining sector outsourcing this type of service for the first time, a great expression of confidence towards the Group.

Sub-Saharan Africa zone

In Mozambique, where CIS has been operating for more than 7 years, the Group has just won three new contracts. The first one in the mining sector, CIS has signed a new coal mine contract with its historical Brazilian client.

The Group has also signed two new contracts in the gas sector. The first one is for the management of a site in the country's high-potential gas zone. The second concerns an offshore project, the second largest FLNG in the world, with a world leader in the natural gas and oil sector.
